Payment of death benefits

When a person dies, the estate is liable for the payment of death benefits. The amount of the death benefit is determined by the terms of the policy. The death benefit is paid to the beneficiary named in the policy. If there is no beneficiary named, the death benefit is paid to the estate. The death benefit is paid in a lump sum, unless the policy provides for a different method of payment. The death benefit is paid to the beneficiary or the estate within a certain period of time after the death of the insured person. The death benefit is paid to the beneficiary or the estate in full, unless the policy provides for a different method of payment. The death benefit is paid to the beneficiary or the estate in full, unless the policy provides for a different method of payment.
